

The UCI Law International Justice Clinic, UCI Center on Globalization, Law and Society (GLAS), and the International Institute on Race, Equality, and Human Rights present:

Freedom of Opinion and Expression in Cuba

A DISCUSSION FEATURING
VERY SPECIAL GUESTS:

LADIES IN WHITE

and

HABLEMOS PRESS

With government control of media and access to information, the freedom of expression in Cuba is limited. Join us for a discussion with members of leading human rights organizations in Cuba and learn about the struggles for freedom of expression in Cuba. This discussion, moderated by Professor David Kaye, UN Special Rapporteur on Freedom of Expression, will feature Berta Soler from Ladies in White, and Roberto de Jesus Guerra from Hablemos Press.

Thursday, March 23, 2017 • 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

MPAA 120

UC Irvine School of Law

Open to the public

For more information or to request reasonable accommodations for a disability, please email centers@law.uci.edu