Workshop events and parking

The workshop will be held at the Beckman Center (www.thebeckmancenter.org/about). This link includes directions to the Center from various directions.

If you are driving there from the conference hotel (Newport Beach Marriott Bayview), head south on Bayview Place, turn left onto Bayview Dr., and make your first right onto Jamboree. After .4 miles, turn left onto University. After another .8 miles, turn right onto California and then make your first right onto Academy Dr. The Beckman Center will be on the right. The trip should take about 5 minutes.

Parking at the Beckman Center is plentiful and free.

Materials

- A copy of the full schedule, along with information from some panel moderators, will be available at registration. Most materials—including WIPs—will not be available in hard copy at the conference site. Please download those materials from the secure website before arriving. If you have questions about this, please contact Jennifer Chacon (jchacon@law.uci.edu).
- Our lunch speakers on Friday, Michael Camerini and Shari Roberston, are the creators of the documentary "How Democracy Works Now." They have created an iBook that accompanies the documentary. Those who are interested—and who have an iPad—can download this handy book (which includes numerous video clips) from iTunes for free.
- If you have information about publications, courses, programs or activities that you'd like to share with other workshop participants, feel free to bring copies of the relevant materials. There will be an information table next to the registration table where you can deposit your information and pick up information from other participants.
